Instructions for Use of the Game Boards and Pieces

On the following pages you'll find three angel game boards and their accompanying playing pieces. These game boards are intended for generic use. You can make up any rules you like to go with them. For example, you could have each player draw a flashcard and give the answer. If correct, he can roll a die or dice and move his piece forward. If incorrect, he must leave his piece where it is. This is just one of many possibilities for play.

Each game board has its own theme:

- With On Clouds of Love, each player is trying to get his angel up to heaven on clouds of love.
- In the Guardian Angel Adventure, two players are trying to get their guardian angels to their respective charges. Each angel has his own track on which to do that.
- With the Heaven's Gate board, each player is attempting to get his angel to the gate of Heaven.

You can also make up your own story or theme to go with each game board. These are just suggestions.

I hope your children have many hours of playing enjoyment with these game boards.

Instructions for Assembly of the On Clouds of Love Game Board

There are two types of pieces that make up the game board: 1) one with the image and a white border on one side, and 2) one with just the image. Some sides of each piece have a solid blue line and others have just the edge of the image. Look carefully for these when cutting out the pieces so that you don't accidentally cut off the white section of the game board. When assembling the game board, the image portion of one piece will be glued on top of the white border of the other.

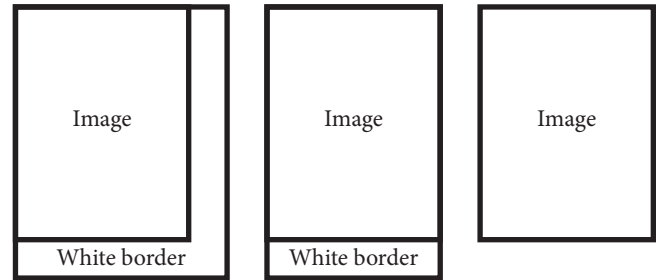

1. Print the pages of the board on printer paper.
2. Cut out the pieces.
3. Glue the left side of the board on the right.
4. When the glue is dry, laminate the game board.

Instructions for Assembly of the Guardian Angel Adventure & Heaven's Gate Game Boards

As shown at right, there are three types of pieces that make up the game board: 1) one with the image and a white border on two sides, 2) one with the image and a white border on one side, and 3) one with just the image.

Note that some sides of each piece have a solid line and others have just the edge of the image. Look carefully for these when cutting out the pieces so that you don't accidentally cut off a section of the game board.

When assembling the game board, the image portion of one piece will be glued on top of the white border of another. All but one of the pieces are labeled with letters. Use these letters as a guide when assembling the game board as explained below.

Step 1: Print the game board pages on printer paper.

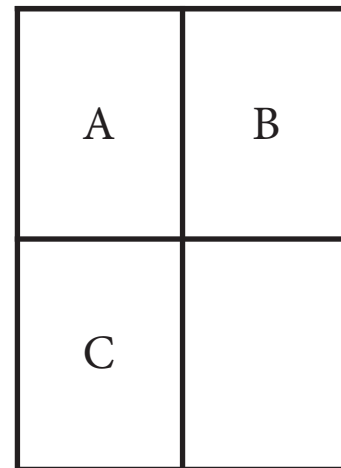

Step 2: Cut out the pieces.

Step 3: Using the figure at right as a guide, assemble the individual pieces in the following order:

1. Glue piece B on A.
2. Glue the unlabeled piece on C.

Step 4: Assemble the previously glued sets of pieces by gluing the unlabeled piece & piece C on pieces A & B.

Step 5: When the glue is dry, laminate the game board for durability.
