A Mad Tea Party Copywork

A Mad Tea Party Copywork was created for Mad Hatter Day, however, it can be enjoyed any day of the year.

It contains a collection of some of the humorous quotes, logical fallacies, and other entertaining phrases found in “A Mad Tea Party” from Carroll’s book, Alice’s Adventures in Wonderland.

The pages are decorated with classic drawings by John Tenniel, Gordon Robinson as well as other artists. As a bonus, there is a full-sized coloring page of the Mad Hatter at the end of the book.

Homeschooling with a Touch of Class copywork is designed to provide you with copy material for children at various stages of handwriting development as well as bonus features for making handwriting practice fun.

The copywork text is printed in 8 different handwriting formats. They are:

dotted traditional manuscript without rule lines,
dotted traditional manuscript with primary lines,
solid traditional manuscript with blank primary lines for copying,
solid traditional manuscript with blank standard lines for copying,
dotted traditional cursive without rule lines,
dotted traditional cursive with primary lines,
solid traditional cursive with blank primary lines for copying, solid traditional cursive with blank standard lines for copying.

To make copywork a more enjoyable experience, these extra features have been included:

Black and white illustrations for children to color.

Suggestions for fun copywork projects.

A list of classical music selections for children to listen to while copying the text.

These have been developed to not only take the stress out of handwriting practice, but to also address the needs of children with different learning styles.

“If you knew Time as well as I do,” said the Hatter, “you wouldn’t talk about wasting it. It’s him.”

Twinkle, twinkle, little bat!
How I wonder what you’re at!
Up above the world you fly,
Like a tea tray in the sky.
