More Nonsense Verse Copywork

Nonsense verse is a fun form of literature. It's weird. It's goofy. It's ridiculous. It makes us laugh. But besides all of that, it can be a handy and entertaining tool for teaching children.

It improves phonemic awareness and reading fluency. When used as copywork, it encourages children to be accurate and pay careful attention to detail.

More Nonsense Verse Copywork contains excerpts from the nonsense poems of such well-known authors as Edward Lear, Lewis Carroll, and Oliver Herford.

You'll find that there are 30 different pieces in this huge collection.

Homeschooling with a Touch of Class copywork is designed to provide you with copy material for children at various stages of handwriting development as well as bonus features for making handwriting practice fun.

The copywork text is printed in 8 different handwriting formats. They are:

dotted traditional manuscript without rule lines,
dotted traditional manuscript with primary lines,
solid traditional manuscript with blank primary lines for copying,
solid traditional manuscript with blank standard lines for copying,
dotted traditional cursive without rule lines,
dotted traditional cursive with primary lines,
solid traditional cursive with blank primary lines for copying, solid traditional cursive with blank standard lines for copying.

To make copywork a more enjoyable experience, these extra features have been included:

Black and white illustrations for children to color.

Suggestions for fun copywork projects.

A list of classical music selections for children to listen to while copying the text.

These have been developed to not only take the stress out of handwriting practice, but to also address the needs of children with different learning styles.

Be lenient with lobsters, and ever kind to crabs,
And be not disrespectful to
cuttlefish or dabs;
Chase not the Cochin-China,
chaff not the ox obese,
And babble not of feather-beds
in company with geese.
